Show Descriptions

Overnight everynight a varied soundscape by artist Mark Vernon intertwines sounds and voices of Lumsden.

A conversation with Dean Spade - Dean has been working to build queer and trans liberation based in racial and economic justice for the past two decades. He's an author and director, and his latest book, Mutual Aid: Building Solidarity During This Crisis (and the Next), was published by Verso Press in October 2020.

A conversation with Harry Josephine Giles - Harry Josephine Giles in conversation with Sam Trotman. Together they discuss Harry Josephine's work and writing that addresses structural inequalities in arts and how this has been informed by their political organising over the past 20 years.

Alford Academy Folk Band - Get your groove on with Alford Academy Folk Band. Here they play a set of the Blue Reel and Smooth Criminal, and one of folk song, the Gadie.

A River's Journey (4 Episodes) - Jake Williams leads us down the River Deveron, from source to mouth, sharing stories and songs relating to the river's journey along the way. Based on a project originally commissioned by Deveron Projects.

Artists and Art Institutions: a Conversation between Jack Tan and

Amy Lawrence - Artist Jack Tan and producer Amy Lawrence, discuss the challenges for artists in working with and within arts organisations, and their new collaboration, a Global Ethnic Majority Peoples' Board Association.

Ask an Expert | Kate Taylor-Beale - Kate is one of two bakers behind Huntly's Honesty Bakehouse. A small artisan bakery making sourdough breads and seasonal treats using a variety of local diverse grains.

Ask an Expert | Glenview - Fresh Local Produce, Yvonne Turner - Yvonne of Glenview Market Garden is live in the studio to answer your questions relating to growing your own vegetables.

Ask an Expert | SSW, Eden Jolly & Michael Hautemulle - Eden Jolly and Michael Hautemulle, Technicians at SSW, are live in the studio to answer any questions on 'how to make it'.

Away with the Birds - Hanna Tuulikki's Away with the birds is a body of work exploring the memesis of birds in traditional Scottish Gaelic song. Performed by a female ensemble, the composition reinterprets archive recordings, texts, and living traditions, weaving together fragments of Gaelic songs and poems that are imitative of birds, into a textural tapestry of sound.

BE PART Protocol - The BE PART Critical Network will share the first draft of a protocol for the project, developed through collaborative work with stakeholders across the BE PART network.

Changes in Huntly - John Booth looks at what lies ahead for the future of Huntly, including the work of the Huntly Development Trust. Along with Albert Booth, Patricia Annison, Jean McPherson and Sandra, they will looking reflect on what people remember of Huntly before it became, "a ghost town".

Community Land Ownership: A Discussion - Bill Slee (Alford Community / Community Asset transfer panel for Forest and Land Scotland) and Calum Macleod (Community Land Scotland) discuss the whys and hows of community land ownership in Scotland.

Dawn Chorus - Start the day with Lumsden's dawn chorus.

Day of the Straws - Producer, artist and activist Kate O'Shea presents a conversation about the project Day of the Straws, by artist Marie Brett and community participants – historians, healers, spiritualists, storytellers, elders, druids and singers, recorded during the COVID-19 pandemic lockdown in Ireland in the spring of 2020. Day of the Straws was commissioned by BE PARTner Cork Midsummer Festival.

Desire Lines - Travelling through Europe with a cement mixer attached to their bike, artist maarten De Vrieze meets people who are often made invisible to society taking alternative routes, or desire lines, across the continent. Desire Lines was commissioned by BE PARTner Vooruit.

Farming in Aberdeenshire - An exploration of farming in Aberdeenshire, how this has changed over the years and what the future might hold for the farmers and their families. Featuring Forbes Leslie, Robert & Michelle Sullivan, Henry Auchnie.

Full Doric Mode - Artist Zoë Irvine leads a voyage into a little-heard sound archive of Doric speaking voices from 2006/7. This sound documentary weaves together archival material with contemporary reflections. Commissioned by Radiophrenia & National Library Scotland.

Interview with Alford Mutual Aid and Community Food Store - Lisa Ross, a founder of Alford Mutual Aid group at the start of the COVID-19 pandemic, shares more about the why and how of our local mutual aid hub.

Interview with Strathbogie Seed Cooperative - Dawn Finch of Strathbogie Seed Collective Collective (SSC) is live in the studio. SSC is a community seed library held for and by the local community at Orb's Bookshop, Huntly.

Into The Mountain choir - Into The Mountain was a place sensitive performance project by artist and choreographer Simone Kenyon with a score by Hanna Tuulikki, performed by a choir of women local to the area.

Is it worth it? - A sound piece by Allan Whyte and Louise Wilson, that aims to draw attention to the vacuous political rhetoric encompassing modern day environmental issues.

Kitchen Disco - Aberdeenshire's Affa Fine share their latest Bothy Bass set live from the SSW studio! Have a hardcore ceilidh in your kitchen to celebrate the final hours of Lumsden Live. In their words enjoy :Twa loons mackin i duncefleer heatit wi yon Nu Bothie, Speed Ceildh, Fitwerk & mare...

Lumsden Live, Loves! The Request Show - Virginia Irvine-Fortescue presents an hour of musical requests from personalities in Lumsden and the surrounding communities. From traditional Scots music to rock and jazz, it's an eclectic mix!

Lumsden Past, Present and Future - Maxine Smith speaks with people from different generations living in and near Lumsden to explore how power is transferred between generations and what they think the future of Lumsden might be. Featuring Moira & Henry Auchnie, Suzanne & Jamie Rhind.

Lumsden School (2 Episodes) - Pupils from Lumsden School tell us what they are doing to look after the environment.

Navigating Local Democracy - Sam Trotman interviews Elaine Robinson (Lumsden Community Association), Nicola Sedgewick (Donside Community Council) and John Latham (Councillor), asking how do we navigate local democracy in Aberdeenshire?

Neil Gray's Takeover - Lumsden resident Neil Gray shares the first ever recording of his newly learned song, Flower o' Scotland. Followed by a playlist of his favourite songs. Made with support from his brother Kyle Gray.

Ode to the NHS - For 'Ode To The N.H.S.' - Ain Bailey composed a meditation/homage to the National Health Service, using the recordings of 10 weeks of 'Clap for the N.H.S.' that took place during the first lockdown. Ain says, "While there are many who thought the gesture futile, I saw it as moments of solidarity and community appreciation for an organisation that has long been under siege and underfunded". Originally commissioned by Radiophrenia.

Power Dynamics - A meditation on power and power relations by Mark Vernon, that draws upon voices and sounds from the Scottish Sculpture Workshop, Lumsden and the surrounding areas.

Power To, For and With the Community...or is there? - Maxine Smith asks how community-focused organisations in the area engage with their local communities and what power dynamics are at play.

Queer AI: Puutarha - Jamie MacDonald interviews artists Aku Meriläinen and Maria Oiva about Queer AI: Puutarha ("Oasis"), a participatory installation and workshop commissioned by BEPARTner Kiasma / URB Festival, that brings queer perspectives on creation myths to Google searches.

Skillshare | Kate Searcaigh - Kate talks about herbalism and alternative therapies in the north east of Scotland, exploring how our hedgerows and gardens might hold the answers to health and wellbeing.

Skillshare | Robbie Walker - Stonemason, Robbie, gives an insight into his knowledge of working with stone, from restoration of familiar National Trust properties, to 'dry stane dyking'.

Skillshare | Rose Annison - Rose tells us about collectively caring for four horses in nearby Rhynie and how her special relationship with her cob, Daniel, benefits her mental health in difficult times.

Skillshare | Sandy Main - Sandy, forester, takes us on a walk in the Forbes Estate at the foot of Bennachie. He talks about his role and responsibilities as a forester, caring for and planning commercial forestry and deciduous broadleaf woodlands.

Sounds in Between - What happens to sound in the in-between spaces? In this episode we listen to sounds from the local communities around Alford and pause to ask questions about knowledge, space and time.

Village Chatter - Listen into village chatter in our virtual village hall.

The Sound of Lochaber - The Sound of Lochaber was originally created by Mark Vernon and London Fieldworks for Remote Performances. The piece merges field recordings and voice interviews into a radiophonic soundscape intended to capture creative interactions with the land, its history and people and tensions between nature, industry, tourism and heritage.

Watery Meditation - Take some time out to explore and connect with the Allantarise Burn in Lumsden, and enjoy this watery meditation which looks at the more-than-human communities that we live alongside.

What We Talk about When We Talk about Crisis: A Conversation, Part 2 - Marwa Arsanios, Lara Khaldi and Yazan Khalili continue their series of conversations to think collectively about the formation of contemporary art and its institutions in relation to crisis.

Yoga / meditations - Join Julie of Tuttifrutti yoga for some gentle stretching and guided meditation.
